

Compilation of Miami Publications Advancing the Social Sciences

Thank you for your interest in joining our editorial board!

As you may already know, COMPASS is a student-run undergraduate research journal. We are currently seeking students to become training board members during fall semester, 2013, and then full editorial board members for the following semester. We encourage you to apply, as this unique experience provides both insight into the publication process and is an important contribution to undergraduate research at Miami.

Requirements for Enrollment and Board Membership

Applicants must:

- Currently attend Miami University as an undergraduate student
- Have earned at least 18 Psychology course credit hours and received at least a B in both PSY 293 and PSY 294
- Illustrate experience or interests in social sciences research, manuscript editing, the publication process, peer collaboration, and leadership

The Application Process

- Applicants will fill out an online application
 - Applications should be emailed to Rachel Skipper, at skippera@miamioh.edu
- Promising applicants will be invited to attend an interview with two members of the COMPASS editorial board.
- Finally, selected applicants will be asked to enroll in PSY 394 during Fall of 2013, and obtain full board membership the following semester.

For more information about COMPASS:

Please contact Rachel Skipper at skippera@miamioh.edu with any questions.